

McADOO TELLS OF WAR COST

Secretary Also Recommends Retirement Legislation in Report.

The enactment of an equitable retirement law for civil service employees is a measure of justice to faithful public servants who have devoted their lives and talents to the government, declared Secretary McAdoo in his annual report for the fiscal year of 1918, made public yesterday, which is virtually the financial history of America's part in the war.

Secretary McAdoo has made recommendations in previous annual reports for this legislation. The necessity for effective action of some character along the line of a retirement law, Secretary McAdoo stated, has been increased during the period of the war.

He believes that in the interest of economy and increased efficiency in the work of the government business as well as justice for long and faithful service this ruling should be made.

War Risk Plan.
It is suggested that the retirement law be modeled after the War Risk Insurance plan, making the legislation an insurance as well as a pension. The attention of Congress is called to this question.

For the fifteen months, ending last June 30, Secretary McAdoo estimated that the actual cost of the war, after the normal expenses of running the government on a peace basis is subtracted, amounted to $13,322,000,000. Nearly half of this expenditure, however, went into permanent investments, such as ships, ships, and ships, army camps and in loans to allies or to American war industries.

The War Department during this period spent $5,840,000,000 and the Navy $1,880,000,000. The normal expenditures included the construction of new vessels, machinery, equipment, armament and permanent construction at the navy yards. For the support of the army the government paid $4,412,000,000. The disbursements to the civil establishments of the government were $3,968,000,000, with the ordinary receipts, exclusive of the liberty loans, amounting to $1,710,000,000. Loans to allies during the year totaled $1,710,000,000 additional.

Discusses Future.
In prophesying the disbursements during the present year Secretary McAdoo could not calculate closely because of the sudden announcement of peace. In round numbers it is estimated that the expenditures for this year will be $20,000,000,000 for government purposes, with $4,770,000,000 for loans to allies and $2,500,000,000 for redemption of outstanding certificates and debt cancellations, totaling approximately $27,270,000,000.

The report disclosed for the first time the activities of the Treasury Department to buy up liberty bonds in an effort to keep their price above par. Up to November 1, it is shown, $44,000,000 worth of bonds had been purchased on the open market for $24,000,000, or at 54 per cent face value.

Secretary McAdoo stated that the war savings movement had resulted in the investment of $33,000,000 in these war securities.

CLARENDON FOLKS HOSTS TO WOUNDED

Citizens' Association Entertains Men from Walter Reed Hospital.

The Soldiers' Committee of the Clarendon Citizens' Association entertained fifteen convalescent soldiers from Walter Reed Hospital last night at the recreation room.

Dinner was served at the residence of Mrs. A. J. Porter, under a ladies' committee, composed of Mesdames J. C. Porter, J. C. Porter, A. M. Dawson, J. T. Manning, A. F. Snyder, Carl Swenson, C. W. Hunt, G. Campbell, E. Hagan, E. A. Pitkin, Jerry, J. E. Nevin and Edmister. After dinner the members and guests adjourned to the recreation room, which has been established at No. 1 Engine House.

There an interesting program was being given. The guests, all of whom had recently returned from active service over there, were: Joseph Thibodeau, E. F. Fiftieth Infantry, Louisiana; Elmer Griffiths, 1, 103d Infantry, Eastport, Me.; John J. Lemaire, E. 15th Infantry, Galveston, Tex.; Edward Ryea, E. Fifty-ninth Infantry, Eastport, Me.; Lester Briggs, H. Twenty-sixth Infantry, Williston, N. Dak.; Harry J. Hooley, E. 309th Infantry, Elizabethtown, N. J.; Thos. W. Bradley, A. Twelfth M. G. ## GIRLS! BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR AND STOP DANDRUFF

Hair Becomes Charming, Wavy, Lustrous and Thick in Few Moments.

Every Bit of Dandruff Disappears and Hair Stops Coming Out.

For a few cents you can save your hair in less than ten minutes you can double its beauty. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and charming as a young girl's after using some Danderine. Also try this moisture cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt, excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but that will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see your hair fine and downy at first—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for your hair, use a lot of it, surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it—Ad.

LOMBIA TREATY MEETS CRITICISM

Republican Senators Are Opposed to Payment of $15,000,000.

Columbia's urgent need for funds may have influenced President Wilson in urging the Senate to ratify the pending treaty with that republic, Senators said yesterday. Payment by the United States of the $15,000,000 provided for in the treaty, for land taken for canal purposes, would help the Colombian government out of a tight place, it was pointed out, and would result in gratitude to this country.

Republican Senators resented some of the President's urgent tone in asking that the treaty be ratified. They declared that Secretary Lansing some time ago told members of the Foreign Relations Committee that the State Department did not want the treaty ratified in its present form. These Senators declared this puts responsibility for the next move up to Lansing.

CITIZENS URGE VOTE FOR D. C.

Oldest Inhabitants Association Pleads for Suffrage As American Right.

Americanization for Washingtonians was the theme of the addresses of the fifty-third anniversary of the Oldest Inhabitants Association last evening in their hall at Nineteenth and H streets, northwest.

"It petitions first for national representation," said Theodore W. Noyes, president of the association, "because it believes that through the material capital we are in, the people who live here, their rights, their wrongs and their welfare, will be added to it."

"We are not so much interested in the material capital we are in, the people who live here, their rights, their wrongs and their welfare, will be added to it."

The same subject was elaborated upon by Col. Robert N. Harper, president of the association, National Bank, who said that the District had furnished more money and more men than several States who boasted two Senators and a Representative.

Washington, the beautiful city also discussed by Col. Harper, who suggested many ways of improving the city. From Second to Fifteenth street northwest and from Pennsylvania avenue to the Smithsonian and Agricultural Department grounds should be razed, according to Col. Harper, and a grand botanical garden such as the world has never seen should be placed there. Here also should be erected a building for the State, which would illustrate to foreigners by exhibit of products and by general character the diversity and resource of our country.

Col. Harper also advocated the building of a great granite arch of triumph on Pennsylvania avenue to commemorate the war.

Dr. Thomas Calver, poet laureate of the association, read a poem written for the occasion entitled "The Peace Our Yankee Boys Bought."

A tribute to German-Americans who were loyal to America was paid by William H. Dennis, of the District bar.

A blank verse requiem over the old Washington was read by Albin K. Farris, vice president of the association. Mr. Farris also elaborated on the vicissitudes of war time Washington.

"A greater, grander, stronger and more superb Washington waits us," declared Mr. Farris, "the 'America' and 'Auld Lang Syne' by the Oldest Inhabitants was also a feature. Refreshments were served after the program."

Will Increase Rates for Expressing Money

Low express rates on currency which have been granted to the government since July, 1914, will be discontinued on the first of the year, it was announced by the Treasury Department yesterday.

WAR WORKERS TO HAVE CLUB

Navy Branch of Red Cross Hostess at Dedication of Quarters.

The executive committee of the Navy Department Auxiliary of the American Red Cross were hostesses last evening at the opening of the club rooms, at 1721 Corcoran court, for the pleasure and convenience of women war workers and other business women.

The rooms are a combination of reading, writing, sewing and music rooms. Talking machines, pianos, and sewing machines are there in abundance. Each evening one of the ladies will be hostess and chaperon, as the women have the privilege of inviting their young men friends.

The music for the evening was furnished by J. B. Decker, J. Quinones, C. Pastana, D. W. Hall, N. J. Peterman, of the "Mayflower," C. J. Burns, H. H. Hartford, J. T. Wyckoff and Jas. Tonnin, of the Seamen Gunners' Club, and J. H. Quinones, Private York. Miss Belle Bagley, sister of Mrs. Daniels, was accompanist for Corp. Godfrey. Each evening one of the ladies of the committee will be hostess.

States—does not favor the superiority of any nation on sea, but believes the sea should be guarded by the whole world.

President May Visit U. S. Boys in Germany

Paris, Dec. 4.—President Wilson will enter Germany while he is in Europe if present plans materialize. Those in charge of President Wilson's journey on this side of the Atlantic have tentatively included in his program a review of American troops including veterans of the Marne, St. Mihiel, and the Argonne battles.

Since years of these units that are not returning to the United States are included in the army of occupation, the President is expected to inspect them in the Rhineland. General Pershing will accompany him on the tour of inspection.

Secretary Lansing and other members of the Wilson party are scheduled to visit some of the battlefields in France made famous by American victories.

Col. E. M. House has sufficiently recovered from the attack of influenza to take short outdoor walks. His physician hopes Col. House will be able to go to Brest to meet Mr. Wilson.

Creel's Aids Making Home in Paris.

Paris, Dec. 4.—With the arrival today from England of Edgar Sisson, accompanied by five assistants and their clerks, the advance guard of the Creel Committee established itself here in anticipation of President Wilson's visit to Paris. They are quartered in a handsome twenty-room house at 38 Avenue Montaigne, in the vicinity of the Champs Elysees. A housekeeper and a corps of valets had been provided in advance for the party.

Horning to Fit Stockings and Shoes to Needy Toes

George D. Horning has made arrangements to make the Christmas stockings of needy lads in Washington a little larger this year by providing shoes and stockings for them.

He has made arrangements to give them as announced by the city. He distributes the overcoats which he supplies at the Yuletide each year.

Boy Embezzler Held By St. Louis Police

Leroy Thomas Buckingham, 17-year-old son of A. L. Buckingham, 5208 Illinois avenue, who has been missing since last Friday, has been arrested in St. Louis for carrying currency in excess of $10,000 from the District National Bank. Buckingham was a bank runner.

The St. Louis police report that he had nearly $2,300 in cash with him when he was arrested. He said that the checks and drafts had been mailed to the bank from Indianapolis. Buckingham had become interested in a girl war worker here from St. Louis and when she left a month ago he announced that he intended to go to St. Louis. St. Louis police were notified and told to watch for him.

TRAINING SCHOOL BOYS GIVE MINSTREL SHOW

Performance Tomorrow Night with Patriotic Music.

The members of Company B, National Training School for Boys, Bladensburg road, will give their second annual military minstrel show in the school auditorium tomorrow night at 7:15 o'clock.

The theatricals have been in rehearsal for several weeks under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Claiborn S. Close, officer and matron of the school; Frank P. Barr, assistant officer manager, and Mrs. J. A. Dawson, of Baltimore, as pianist.

Walter Jacobs, of 2906 University place and Charles Leeman, of 438 D street, north, will be the principal emcees. Local boys have prominent parts in the program, which includes a minstrel circle with patriotic songs and other musical numbers.

SHIPPING JOBS EASY FOR SOLDIERS TO GET

Arrangement Made for Benefit of Army Men Over Here.

The 1,700,000 men still in the thirty-one army camps in the United States will be given an opportunity to fill 200,000 jobs in the merchant marine and ship yards through an arrangement announced by the United States Shipping Board yesterday.

The board has arranged with the Adjutant General of the army to send men to the camps to supply information about the work in the ship yards and the ships of the American merchant fleet.

Three special agents from the Shipping Board will be sent to each camp and an officer is to be assigned to assist each committee.

Actual recruiting at the camps is not to be undertaken, but the men given full information about the opportunities afforded so that they may make up their minds when mustered out and given a chance to visit their homes.

When a man is ready to go to the sea, the Shipping Board will indicate the nearest point of employment.

BORAH WANTS PUBLIC DISCUSSION ON PEACE

Senator Borah, of Idaho, took the initiative toward bringing about a public discussion of the peace treaty by introducing in the Senate yesterday a resolution demanding that the doors be thrown open when the treaty is given to the Senate for ratification.

It is Senator Borah's opinion that this question should be settled before the peace conference in Europe are begun; that the parties to the treaty should know that secret diplomacy is not desired, and that not only the Senate but the American people as well are to be made acquainted with all the discussions at the peace table and the meaning of every article in the treaty itself.

The resolution is predicated upon the declaration made by President Wilson in his historic speech of January 8, 1918, in which he declared that durable peace should be founded upon "open covenants openly arrived at."

POLICE SEE HORSES SHOCKED TO DEATH

A delegation from the Washington police force yesterday visited the Washington Animal Rescue League at Four-and-a-half street and Maryland avenue and saw the arrangements for electrocution of diseased animals. Maj. Pullman is issuing a bulletin of commendation on the device today.

Since years of these units that are not returning to the United States are included in the army of occupation, the President is expected to inspect them in the Rhineland. General Pershing will accompany him on the tour of inspection.

Secretary Lansing and other members of the Wilson party are scheduled to visit some of the battlefields in France made famous by American victories.

Col. E. M. House has sufficiently recovered from the attack of influenza to take short outdoor walks. His physician hopes Col. House will be able to go to Brest to meet Mr. Wilson.

The St. Louis police report that he had nearly $2,300 in cash with him when he was arrested. He said that the checks and drafts had been mailed to the bank from Indianapolis. St. Louis police were notified and told to watch for him.

CHRIST CHILD SUMMONS AND

Society Here Will Have Tag Days Saturday and Sunday.

"The Christ Child comes with soft light feet To touch earth's paths and make them sweet."

With this appropriate introduction the Christ Child Society last night announced the coming of "Christ Child Tag Days," here Saturday and Sunday. Sunday's tagging will be conducted outside all Catholic churches following the morning services.

Reaching already more than 2,000 children annually, the society is confronted this year with conditions still more complex and trying. It is a matter of record that no case of want has ever been submitted in vain to the Christ Child Society, regardless of the race, color or creed of the needy ones.

Among the objects of the Christ Child Society are to provide complete infant outfits to destitute mothers; to provide clothing and shoes to children; to provide summer outings for children at the Christ Child farm; to provide a temporary home for children during their mother's illness and for convalescent children; to provide for the physical and moral well-being of children; to provide cheer to saddened homes at Christmas, and to provide industrial classes and clubs for boys and girls in social centers.

Letters Will Bring Answers.
All letters addressed by poor children to "The Christ Child" or to Santa Claus, specifying the wants of the little heart at Christmas, are given careful attention by the ladies of the organization. No case is ever unanswered; the tragedy of "the empty stocking" on Christmas morn is unknown in the homes that appeal to the energetic workers in this society, all of whom work with the recompense of any kind. The society was established twenty-six years ago by Miss Mary V. Merrick, who is still president.

The Tag Day committee is as follows: Madame B. Monica Calderon, chairman; Mrs. James Dudley Morgan and Mrs. Daniel C. Stapleton, vice chairmen; Mrs. Thomas Carter, Mrs. Thornton P. Boland, Mrs. W. J. Baxter, Mrs. Henry Flather, Mrs. C. P. Neill, Mrs. Loren Johnson, Mrs. John Shea, Mrs. Sheridan, and other members who will aid their services to the cause this week.

WEST VIRGINIANS HEAR ALASKA TALES

State Society Enjoys Music and Plans Future Entertainment.

How 200 gold prospectors in Alaska put on their Sunday best and fled into the saloon and out again in order to get a glimpse of the state society, a white woman they had seen in two years was told by Miss Lillian Rudwick in a travel talk on Alaska at the state society of the West Virginia Society last night.

A solo dance by Miss Louise Bell was one of the other features of the program.

Miss Alice de Luthy read the "Beauty Doctor" and Miss Estelle Murray gave a vocal selection.

Leo B. Russell presided at the opening of the meeting. Capt. James J. Allen, president of the state society, closed the meeting with the announcement of the annual "Cider, Apple, Gingerbread West Virginia Party," which will be held at the Pythian Temple on January 12, in which he presided as chairman of the entertainment committee.

Signal Corps Workers Give Dance and Circus

A dance and circus to commemorate the busy but happy hours spent in the Arcad Building by the war workers and officers of the Signal Corps was held last night in the corridors and auditorium of the Arcade Building.

The Signal Corps will move to the temporary War Department buildings situated at Eighteenth and Virginia avenue on Monday.

The one-acting circus comprised features furnished by the near-by camps and the local theaters. The Signal Corps Band of thirty-six pieces played for the dancers. Capt. Donald MacGregor had charge of the evening's jollification.

Big Freight Increase Moved by Railroads

Railroads of the United States moved 38,592,137 tons miles of freight in September, it was announced by the United States Railroad Administration yesterday, an increase over September, 1917, of 84 per cent.

This tonnage increase was accomplished with an increase of but one-tenth of 1 per cent of freight train miles, according to the report.

Each car carried an average of 29.7 tons in the month as compared with an average of 28.5 tons in September, a year ago. This increase of 10.8 per cent is attributed to the policy of the Railroad Administration of requiring loading to full capacity.

WITNESSES AFFIRM ALLEGIANCE TO U. S. IN BREWERS' PROBE

"C. Feikenspan, $25,000. I have never met him."

"Julius Liebmann, $25,000. I have never met him on the street, years ago."

"J. C. G. Hupfel, $7,500. I think I met him once on the street, years ago."

"Jacob Ruppert, $5,000. I do not know him. I think I met him once many years ago."

"Joseph E. Uhllein, $50,000. I know him, but I met him last ten years ago."

"Edward Lansberg, $15,000. I have never met him."

"Reuter & Co., $15,000. I have never met Mr. Reuter."

"G. Pabst, $20,000. I know Mr. Pabst. I am connected with him by marriage. During the past eight years I have met him only on rare occasions and mostly by accident."

"Fred Miller Brewing Co., $12,000. I know Mr. Miller. The last time I met him, however, was about twelve years ago."

"G. Schmidt and Sons, $5,000; F. A. Poth and Sons, $10,000; United States Brewers' Association, $30,000; Bergner and Engel, $10,000. I don't know any of these concerns."

Another time, he declared, he had seen Boy-Ed's name on a letter addressed to Hammerling.

Harry Prudden, an advertising man of New York, testified that Hammerling had made him an offer of a contract with the Hamburg-American Line after the war, and that in discussing the war Hammerling had seemed to be fully aware that shipping conditions would prevent the sending of any goods into Germany. He stated that Hammerling had told him that he was well acquainted with Ambassador Bernstorff and with Emperor Karl of Austria, who had had a hunting lodge near Hammerling's estate in Galicia.

Frank Zotti, the editor of a Croatian paper, testified that the editor of one of the leading Italian dailies had told him that Hammerling was trying to buy his paper to use for German propaganda. Zotti told of the fight he had made against the Hammerling advertising agency, known as the American Association of Foreign Language Newspapers, and of the efforts Hammerling had made to crush him. He declared that he had been warned by Carl Boyer of the Committee on Public Information to cease his campaign against Hammerling, and of the raid of his office by agents of the Department of Justice, a punishment he declared for defying Hammerling.

Y. W. C. A. Sees War Pictures.

An official showing of Signal Corps pictures taken at the front took place in the parlors of the Young Women's Christian Association last night. There were also pictures of large industrial plants in this country which have been putting out ordnance products.

Hammerling told the subcommittee that Lenin and Trotsky had come to his office in search of funds and had been thrown out by Hammerling. The witness declared that his naturalization before he was legally eligible was in keeping with the common political custom in the anthracite coal regions to secure votes.

Dushan Popovich, editor of the Serb Sentinel, testified that he had refused the munition appeal and dropped from Hammerling's advertising list as a punishment for his refusal.

Gabryle, a former employee of Hammerling's and vice president of the American Association of Foreign Language Newspapers, declared that Hammerling had been fully aware that the munitions, against which the appeal was made, were being sent to the allied nations, and that he had been sent to Bethlehem to investigate labor conditions. The witness declared that he had warned Hammerling that the Polish people believed that the association was being supported by German money, and that Hammerling had told him that what "people don't know, won't hurt them."

Gabryle declared that he had seen Ambassador Bernstorff going into Hammerling's private office, and at one time Hammerling had called Capt. Boy-Ed and Von Papen on the telephone when Gabryle was in the office.
